"Then, Tammany Hall will probably support the Democratic candidate for President?" I suggested. "Certainly, of course," he said promptly,

"unless it should be Tilden or some pet and tool of his-which is now not very proba-"Who is your favorite, Mr. Kelly?"

"Tammany Hall is very much divided as to the best man," he said. "Speaking for This clever thrust silenced the aunt and semyself alone, it seems to me it will be either an Union general like Hancock, or an eminent civilian like Bayard. It will be nobody's tool."

A New York Democrat, when he heard they were Pottering with the returns at Albany, said he wouldn't Seymour than one of their tickets returned as elected. A Republican promptly replied: "We Beach you even on the secretaryship of State." 'No wonder," responded the Demmy "the tickets were Olcott up; but we were Mackin sure of the State Treasury. Ward be the result if you were to leave us without a Soule hope of victory?" The Rep. answered: "We'll take that kind of talk for Wadsworth"; and the two fiendish politicians went out and ratified in a manner truly fraternal, and with no water in it.

Our valued neighbor, the Washington Post, has abandoned Tilden entirely, and is vigorously advocating Horatio Seymour as the only available Democratic candidate for the presidency in the land. It is well that the Post has started in early to work up Seymour. The old gentleman has a way of declining up to the very last moment. A STORY

In Mr. Longfellow's "Prems of Places"collection which none but a true poet could have made, and which every travel-ier of taste will make his guide-beok—we find under the head of Schoharie the following poem by Professor George W. Greene: The Sabbath-Evening Walk.

Editors Dispatch: Dki the last Legislature pass a law that pushic-school warrants would be or could be taken for taxes? I was under the impression that such a provision had been made. I would esteem it a favor if you will give me the true facts in regard to the law. Country Teacher.

"At warrants hereafter drawn by district school boards or trustees upon the public-school fund of the State as now provided by law, shall, if approved by the country or corporation superintendent, be taken up by him, and his own warrants issued therefor, which shall be paid by the treasurer of the county or corporation, or be receivable by him in payment of all taxes or demands due the Commonwealth."

Seymour as Successor to Tilden.

A prominent Democrat, bitherto closely affiliated with Randall, made the significant remark last evening that feeling was changing from Mr. Tilden to ex-Governor Seymour to such an extent that it might be called actual revolution. "The Bayard boom does not meet with the Seymour men's approval," he said, "on the ground that such as provided with Randall, made the significant remark last evening that feeling was changing from Mr. Tilden to ex-Governor Seymour to such an extent that it might be called actual revolution.
